

William Shakespeare's
MacBeth

Edited and fully annotated by Richard F. Whalen from an Oxfordian perspective

Horatio Editions/Llumina Press
Published September 2007
ISBN: 978-1-59526-834-1
Soft cover 276 pages 6x9 format
Price: $14.95 (plus shipping)

Including an introduction to the series with the dramatist's controversial life, his stage, his audience and the question of his identity, an introduction to Macbeth, and suggested readings.
Plus an essay on "Acting Macbeth" by Derek Jacobi.

Available direct from Llumina Press:

Toll-Free Credit-Card Orders 9a-5p ET: 1-866-229-9244

Or at <http://www.llumina.com/store/macbeth.htm>

Or via email to orders@llumina.com

This Oxfordian Shakespeare Series presents for the first time fully annotated editions informed by the view that the plays were written by Edward de Vere, the 17th earl of Oxford—a view that reveals their true meaning and significance not only for his contemporaries but also for today's readers and playgoers.

Taking advantage of almost a century of Oxfordian scholarship as well as traditional scholarship, the editors show how Oxford, like all great writers, drew on his own life experience and his times. The editions reward the reader with a new and profound appreciation of the plays as the works of a controversial nobleman in Queen Elizabeth's court who wrote under the pen name William Shakespeare.

Lovers of Shakespeare will want to see how this Oxfordian perspective informs and illuminates the plays.

Plays in this Oxfordian Shakespeare Series, and their editors, include:

Macbeth, Richard F. Whalen, co-general editor of the series

Othello, Ren Draya, Blackburn College

Antony and Cleopatra, Michael Delahoyde, Washington State University

Hamlet, Jack Shuttleworth, English Department, U.S. Air Force Academy (ret.)

The Tempest, Roger Stritmatter, Coppin State University

Henry the Fifth, Kathy R. Binns-Dray, Lee University

King John, Daniel L. Wright, Concordia University

Love's Labour's Lost, Felicia Londre, University of Missouri-Kansas City

Much Ado About Nothing, Anne Pluto, Lesley University

General Editors

Daniel L. Wright, Ph.D., Ball State University

Director of the Shakespeare Authorship Studies Center and Professor of English, Concordia University, Portland, Oregon

Founding director, Shakespeare Authorship Studies Conference at Concordia

Richard F. Whalen, M.A., Yale University

Author, Shakespeare: Who Was He? The Oxford Challenge to the Bard of Avon

Past president, Shakespeare Oxford Society